

Physicians Request Congress to Adopt Universal Training

Military Instruction Will Be of Greatest Value to All. Say Doctors, Who See Lesson in Results in A. E. F.

Thirty American physicians yesterday sent letters to every member of Congress urging support for Senate Bill 3702, which provides for the introduction of a system of universal military training. The medical men take the stand that such a system will be of inestimable value to the manhood of the nation, and that the general health and mentality of all will be tremendously improved by the passage of the bill.

"No Sunday school ever conceived could be more efficient than the A. E. F. in the prevention of crime," the letter says. "Only 1,731 men out of the 2,000,000 members of the force returned to America as prisoners. In New York City alone 75,000 are convicted every year of felonies and misdemeanors."

"We recommend drastic measures for the prevention of disease and injury. It is estimated that 50,000 of the 1,000,000 young men enrolled for training each year would require medical treatment for social diseases, and the benefit of universal physical care is readily apparent in this instance."

Drs. Richard Darby and George Draper, of New York City, head the list of signers. Additional New York inductees are given by Drs. Martin F. Jones, Thomas W. Salmon, medical director of the National Committee for Mental Hygiene; Alexander Lambert, William F. Snow, dean of Columbia University; Pierce Bailey, Joseph A. Blake, Homer F. Swift, George Emerson Brewer, Eugene Lyman Fisk, medical director of the Life Extension Institute; Hermann M. Biggs, Lewis A. Conner, William F. Snow, head of the Bureau of Social Hygiene; Henry S. Satterlee, Charles H. Peck, Henry H. M. Lyle, Hans Zinsner, Department of Bacteriology, Columbia University; Eugene H. Pool, Bayard Clark, Harlow Brooks, Albert S. Morrow, John A. Hartwell and C. N. B. Comac.

Delegates of All Posts Will Meet in Washington To-day to Re-discuss Question of Additional Compensation

Sectional Lines Likely To Be Sharply Drawn, as a Result of Divided Opinion Throughout the Country

(The American Legion Editor of The Tribune will cover the National Legion Conference on the bonus at Washington to-day.)

American Legion delegates representing all states and territories will meet to-day at Washington for the purpose of re-debating the entire question of additional compensation for ex-service men and women, and before the conference adjourns this evening it is not unlikely that sectional lines will be drawn to a tension verging on the breaking point.

Few Legion assemblies, not even during the Minneapolis convention, have been as important as that scheduled for to-day. The bonus issue has been fought doggedly in every community in the country with a sincerity which has reflected the fighting qualities of the men engaged. There have been rumors that some of the most vigorous opponents of the bonus would resign from the Legion rather than subscribe to a recommendation to Congress demanding such an award, and such action is not at all unlikely.

As a matter of fact, it is almost certain that the delegates from the Eastern States will make just that point. They will submit proof that the majority of veterans want Federal compensation and will insist that any officer who cares to place his personal views above those of the men he represents resign forthwith. Touching on this point, Commander Wade H. Hayes, of the New York department, recently issued this statement:

"The commander feels that, irrespective of the personal opinions of any individual, in view of the overwhelmingly expressed attitude of the State Department in favor of adjusted compensation, as expressed in the reports of the sub-committee and approved by the executive committee, every official of the state organization and subordinate units is required, if he is to work in the interest of the Legion as a whole, to do everything within his official power to bring to a successful fruition the desires of the men of the Legion. Therefore, the commander wishes it to be known that he will expect the cooperation and support of every subordinate official and unit within the department in the effort to expedite the enactment of proper legislation in both the state legislature and the national Congress in favor of adjusted compensation."

Unfortunately for the cause of harmony, all states have not taken action as fast as New York. If they had the conference at Washington to-day would accomplish its task in a jiffy and adjourn before noon. On the contrary,

Samuel F. Haserot, American Canner, Is Dead in Berlin

Well Known Business Man of Cleveland Started Life as Grocery Clerk, Rising to Head Many Enterprises

BERLIN, March 21.—Samuel Frederick Haserot, a well-known business man of Cleveland, Ohio, died here Saturday.

Samuel Frederick Haserot was born in Cleveland in 1867, and was educated in the Cleveland High School. His first position was as a grocery clerk. From 1890 to 1895 he was the head of the firm of W. J. Hayes & Co. In 1895 he organized the firm of S. F. & E. H. Haserot & Co. In 1895 the corporation of the Haserot company, wholesale grocers and coffee roasters, was organized, of which Haserot was president until his retirement from business in 1905.

Mr. Haserot embarked in the canning business in 1889, organizing three companies, located at Forestville, N. Y.; Gowanda, N. Y.; and Clyde, Ohio, and taking the position of active head of these companies until they were consolidated in 1904 into one company, which was known as the Haserot Canning Company. Mr. Haserot has been president of the company since its organization.

From 1896 to 1897 he was president and director of the Ohio Wholesale Grocers' Association of Ohio. From 1900 to 1905 he was vice-president of the American Trust Company and president of the Prudential Trust Company, of Cleveland. In 1908 Mr. Haserot assisted in the organization of the Park National Bank (now the First National Bank), of Cleveland, and had been a director of the bank since its organization. In 1899 he organized the Cleveland Chocolate and Caramel Company and was its president for four years. Mr. Haserot has been identified in official capacities with many other financial enterprises. He also was vice-president and trustee of the Cleveland Humane Society and was a member of several clubs.

'Candy King,' Who Began Career as Street Hawker, Dies

Joseph Hartog Amassed Fortune as Manufacturer and Home at Rye Was Westchester Showplace

Joseph Hartog, of 270 Park Avenue, president of the F. G. Brewster Company, wholesale candy manufacturers at 300 East Sixty-first Street, and known familiarly as the "Candy King," died last night in the Presbyterian Hospital of heart disease.

Mr. Hartog was born in this city and was educated in the public schools here. At the age of twelve years he started his career by selling candy in the streets, and six years later opened a small candy shop on the East Side. Through hard work he saved enough money to start in the candy manufacturing business. The venture was successful and he soon amassed a fortune. He was an extensive traveler and collected many rare articles of the world. His summer home was at Rye, N. Y., where he considered one of the show places of Westchester County. Mrs. Harriet Hartog, his wife, was removed to Campbell's Funeral Home, where it will remain until Tuesday, when Masonic services will be conducted.

JAMES A. CAUFFIELD
James A. Cauffield, a retired builder, died Saturday night at his home, 30 McDonough Street, Brooklyn, after an illness of two months. He began life as a carpenter, and was for ten years building inspector of the former City of Brooklyn. He went into the building business for himself, and constructed houses in all parts of the borough.

Mr. Cauffield was a director in the Mechanics' Bank of Brooklyn, a member of the Brooklyn Club, Montauk Council, K. C., and the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick.

He is survived by his wife, four sons, a daughter, two sisters and a brother.

Stimson won't support bonus

The Tribune is in receipt of a letter, signed by Henry L. Stimson and stamped with the official stamp of the New York County headquarters, in which Stimson, who is the president of the 35th Field Artillery Post 592, declines to work in the interest of the passage of the bonus. The letter is addressed to Commander Hayes and says:

"We are no longer in the army. Those of us who hold official positions in the American Legion are supposed to represent the wishes of our constituents according to the laws of civil, not military, government. There has been no referendum of any sort in New York State by the posts from which I am elected, and I cannot permit myself to act in the way required by your instructions."

It can readily be seen that the meeting of the New York County Committee at the American Legion Club of America to-night will be one of action. Mr. Stimson's sincerity is just as great as that of the bonus advocates, and he will not be alone in his fight to-night. Other posts in New York have taken action similar to that of the 35th Field Artillery. There is a question, however, that at this time the members of the Legion in this county have indorsed the proposition to demand the additional compensation.

New State Headquarters
Headquarters of the New York Department again being moved. The offices at 54 Wall Street will be abandoned this week for quarters in Room 302, Hall of Records. It is expected that the new office will be occupied by next Saturday morning.

Bronx County Active
Plans are virtually complete for the first annual entertainment of the combined posts of the Bronx on Saturday evening, April 24, at the Metropolitan Armory, 168th Street and Fort Washington Avenue. The cast will be one of the largest ever assembled in an amateur production. Rehearsals are being held three times a week, Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings, at the 2d Field Artillery Armory, 168th Street and Franklin Avenue.

There are still several places in the cast for talented young men of color, and dancing teams are particularly needed. W. T. Hannegan, 161 Columbus Avenue, is in charge of the arrangements.

Recover Your Luggage
National Commander Franklin O'Dier has issued a bulletin urging all posts to communicate with the army and the Knights of Columbus bureau at 105 West 40th Street for a report on the recovery of luggage lost by veterans. There are 150,000 pieces at Hoboken and hundreds at various French ports.

LEGION NOTES
The first reunion and smoker of the Beasmont Club, composed of those members of the A. E. F. Air Service who were assigned to duty from the Beasmont Barracks, Tours, France, will be held at Assembly Hall, 109 East Twenty-second Street, Thursday night, March 25, at 8 o'clock. The members of the club were with the 20th and 201st aer squadrons. Officers of the New York club are: Walter L. Buchanan, president; Sydney S. Braumberg, vice-president; William W. Mitchell, 1929 Plathush Avenue, Brooklyn, secretary, and John S. Mulcare, treasurer. Eventually it is planned to have organizations in Boston and Philadelphia as well.

Richard J. McNally Post 263 has sent 27 at appeal for volunteer workers to assist in raising the post's fund of $30,000 for a new clubhouse. The loan is being taken in the form of a bond issue and is not an appeal for charity. Volunteers may apply any evening at Room 6, 600 West 181st Street.

Attendants in the New York State Soldiers and Sailors' Home, who are members of the Charles E. Westcott Post 173, have issued a pamphlet denying the charges made against them at the recent investigation before Lieutenant Governor Walker. They say the allegations of cruelty and dishonesty on their part are made as a result of malicious campaigning by persons with a grudge.

Post Activities
Motor Transport Post, at its meeting last Thursday night, passed a resolution endorsing the creation of a separate Motor Transport Post in the army reorganization now under consideration in Congress.

Army Ordnance of Manhattan Post 9 will hold a Tuesday evening at 1107 Broadway. The second informal dance of the post will be held at the Engineering Societies' Building, 39 West Thirty-ninth Street, April 15.

Former members of Company A, 306th Infantry, are going to have a reunion to-morrow evening at the Fifth Division Armory, 479 East Tremont Avenue. The reunion will be held at the vaudeville show and refreshments are on the program.

Ex-Uptons attended a meeting of Upton Post last night at the Hotel Imperial, when there was open discussion of the bonus and other vital issues.

Prominent national, state and city officials have promised to attend the next entertainment of Chelsea Post 436, at the Hotel Pennsylvania, Tuesday, April 6.

Brownsville Post has decided to erect a $25,000 monument to the men of that section who died in the service. The money will be raised by popular subscription.

Flaris Post raised a substantial sum through their concert at the Cort Theater last night. Among the stars who appeared were Dorothy Jordan, Belle Murray, Harry Fox, Henry Carroll, Elizabeth Murray, Frank Fay, William and Gordon Dooley and several others.

Old Glory Naval Post 48 has recommended the passage of the Hudson-Kelly bill providing for increased pay for naval forces, as a means of stimulating recruiting. A reception will be held by the post on the evening of March 30 at Public School No. 108, Fourth Avenue and Sixtieth Street.

Reville Post will stage a mounted basketball game to-night at the 2d Field Artillery Armory, 168th Street and Franklin Avenue, Brooklyn.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Arthur Viens Post 704 will have its first meeting to-night at the Independence League Club, 479 East Tremont Avenue, the Bronx. A dance will be held Friday, April 9, at Unity Hall, Webster Avenue, near Fordham Road.

The 302d Engineers Post has elected the following officers: President, Joseph Glenn; vice-president, H. B. Lozano; secretary, George J. Reilly; treasurer, William A. Bueck; committee members, Gilbert Crawford and James Scheiner. The next meeting of the post will be at the 77th Division club house, 27 West Twenty-fifth Street, April 19.

The 102d Ammunition Train Post 741 will stage the initial performance of "Twenty-seventh Division Entertainment Unit" in the West Side Y. M. C. A. auditorium Wednesday evening.

Do you favor establishing a post in New York City for the men of the U. S. A. S. who served in Italy? Send your name, address and section number to Meyer H. Slack, 59 Wall Street.

'Reds' Seek Membership In the American Legion

Arthur Woods Issues Warning Radicals Want to Learn of Activity Against Them

INDIANAPOLIS, March 21.—Warning that radicals are trying to obtain membership in the American Legion was given in a statement issued to-night by Arthur Woods, chairman of the National Americanism Commission, from national headquarters in Indianapolis.

Mr. Woods said he had learned that the "Reds" are seeking enrollment in the Legion in an effort to learn what is in our country and to learn what is in our country and to learn what is in our country.

"We are working to promote public welfare and good citizenship, and the more they find out about this work the better. It will do them good."

"They will find it very difficult—yes, impossible—to convert to a belief in anarchy, men of the stuff that characterizes our membership, and they will run grave risk of being converted themselves to a belief in law and order as a prerequisite to social and economic justice and happiness."

Widow, Daughter Die of Gas

Mrs. Mary Miller, a widow, and her daughter, Lillian, fifteen years old, were found dead from illuminating gas yesterday at their home, 433 East 113th Street. They were in bed, and had been asphyxiated in their sleep. One window was raised a few inches, and it is thought the draft extinguished the flame of a gas jet.

Letters found in the apartment indicated that Mrs. Miller's brother, Robert, lived in the apartment. He had written a letter to his sister, and a letter was sent to him notifying him of the death of his sister and niece.

Grover Cleveland Remembered

Memorial services for Grover Cleveland were conducted yesterday afternoon at the Caldwell Presbyterian Church, Caldwell, N. J., under the auspices of the Grover Cleveland Memorial Association. Mrs. Thomas Preston, who was President Cleveland's wife, was present, and Dr. John H. Finley, president of the memorial association, spoke.
